

Notice to Homeowners Regarding Community Communications

Dear Homeowners,

The Board would like to take a moment to address recent communications and concerns that have been circulating within our condominium community. We understand that homeowners may occasionally have questions, frustrations, or differing opinions about decisions affecting the property. Healthy discussion is welcome and important to maintaining a well-informed and engaged community.

However, it is equally important that all concerns be shared in a respectful, constructive, and appropriate manner. Personal attacks, misinformation, repeated disruptive communications, or efforts to create division among neighbors do not serve the best interests of the Association or its homeowners.

If any homeowner has a concern regarding Association business, building operations, rules, finances, maintenance, or Board decisions, we encourage that concern to be submitted through the proper Association channels. This allows the Board and management to review the matter accurately, respond appropriately, and maintain a written record for accountability.

The Board remains committed to transparency, fairness, and the responsible management of our community. We ask all homeowners to help preserve a respectful environment by verifying information before sharing it, refraining from inflammatory language, and treating neighbors, Board members, management, and vendors with courtesy.

Our shared goal is to protect property values, maintain a safe and pleasant living environment, and ensure that homeowner concerns are addressed through a fair and orderly process. We appreciate your cooperation and continued commitment to our condominium community.

Sincerely,

Your 1A President, Cynthia Gordon
